Dustin,

We're on top of this. You've taken the classes and have completed the degree; we suspect it is just a paperwork issue somewhere in the degree audit office.

Main thing – don't worry. You've done all of the classes. I think when you took one hour of LITE 590 for matriculation this semester, it threw the computer auditing software off. We should have zero trouble getting that fixed – I think Dr. Paganelli and I just need to talk to a person in that office, and we've already got the call in.

On the degree audit it is saying I still need 2 credit to graduate. I know I had to repeat 590 from the fall and it was a 3-credit course in the fall. I was wondering if this is just an error or do I not receive 3 credit hours for the repeat?
