The 27th works for me! My 7th period starts at 1:35– I will let my mentor teacher know. If she is unavailable, Hannah West, the teacher we met with last time, will be available.

No worries. It doesn't give us much wiggle room, but I know both of our schedules are pretty tight right now. How about 7th period on the 27th and then maybe meet with your mentor teacher after school for a few minutes? Remind me again what time 7th period starts.

Hi Dr. Logsdon!

I'm sorry for not getting back to you sooner. I have been competing at my final national tournament for speech and debate, so I have been away from my computer and email.

I am happy to have you come anytime next week. My 7th period is currently working on their multi-genre project so any day would be fine. What works best for you?

Best,
Caitlyn Woitena

Caitlyn,

We need to get our final observation scheduled in the next week or so! To be honest, this week is probably out for me, with the possible exception of Friday afternoon. What does your schedule look like?

Thanks,
Dr. Logsdon
