Hi Dr. Logsdon!

I'm happy I get to meet with you/work with you again- it's neat that I started my education major with you here on the hill and now get to finish it out with you as a supervisor. You've had a huge impact on my experience here at WKU.

I think I only have a few questions:

1. Should I reach out to my mentor teacher now or should I wait until the student teaching meeting on the 15th?
2. I will be returning home to Texas for the majority of winter break to attend a few different appointments. Would you want to meet in December? I know this would involve my MT's availability as well so now that I'm typing this, I realize we should probably just cross that bridge when we get there haha!

Best,
Caitlyn Woitena

Subject: Student Teaching in the Spring

Hello all,

I wanted to send a quick email to introduce myself, even though I think I am only introducing myself to one of you as I had three of you in EDU 250. I am very excited for the spring semester! I'll reach out soon to connect you with your mentor teacher(s) if you haven't already done so. Ideally, I'd like to meet with each of you with your mentor teacher (or first placement teacher for those of you doing middle grades) before the start of the spring semester.

If you would, reply with any questions you might have AND let me know if you've met or emailed with your mentor teacher(s) yet.

I look forward to a great spring!

Thanks,
Dr. Logsdon
