Thank you so much, I truly appreciate it greatly. Yes sir, I can meet this afternoon around 3:00 if that's okay, or whatever time works best for you I can easily make work. I appreciate it so much again. Thank you!

Yes, my ETS account is made! Thank you again!

Taylor,

I totally get it, and I'm glad you emailed me! My calendly is sometimes filled up, but I often still have availability here or there and I absolutely get the desire to get your exam schedule so you can student teach. My next week is pretty tight, but I can get you in today. Could you Zoom in this afternoon?

Also, have you made your ETS account?

Hello,

My name is Taylor Payton, and I have been in the process of using the amazing literacy center to begin the process to schedule my two Praxis core exams. I have been rushing this sadly because I want to get them behind me before I can get qualified to student teach. I apologize for all the emails and to bother during your busy day as well. I just got the email that I passed the post exam for my math and writing exams, and

I have to schedule a zoom meeting with you. I looked on the calendar and just wanted to email and see if you could do before the 26th as listed on the calendar. Truly, totally fine if you can't but, if you have any time today or even Monday to begin scheduling them, I'd love to meet over Zoom if you have time of course. I know this is last minute to schedule so quickly just seeing if you have any available time to do so, no worries again if not. Thank you so much for all you do and apologize for all the last-minute questions and trying to schedule!

Thank you again, and have a wonderful day!
