Colleagues,

We hope that the semester is wrapping up nicely for you. As we head into finals week, we're excited to offer faculty and staff a fun way to take a break from the stress of exams. On Reading Day, December 4th at 3 p.m., we'll be hosting a pub-style trivia event in the Student Success Center, starting at 3 p.m.

This will be a fun team-based trivia contest covering a mix of topics across general knowledge and pop culture. No prep is needed – just show up and have fun! You can assemble a team of your own beforehand, find one when you get here, or if you are brave and smart enough, compete solo! Everyone is welcome! You are more than welcome to invite friends and colleagues from other colleges as well. (But be warned – last time we did trivia, the librarians stomped CEBS. Hard.)

This event is a small way to say thank you for the time, energy, and heart you pour into our students all semester along. We hope this gives everyone a chance to unwind before the bustle of finals week fully sets in.

Snacks and light refreshments will be provided! We hope to see you there!
