Gotcha! Thank you so much- and I'm glad you had a great break!

I wasn't sure if you knew about it, but I wanted to check in! I had only heard about it the one time, so I wasn't sure if it was ongoing.

I am just so eager to pass science. I'm one point and one test away from being DONE!! Jobs will start posting in my county (Oldham) in mid April and I want to be so confident with the praxis so that I can feel even better in interviews.

I am so grateful to be graduating. I couldn't envision it 4 years ago and I can't believe it's here- and I would not be here if it wasn't for you, Super and Hussung. I hope you know how eternally grateful I am for you all. I can't wait for that graduation picture we've been talking about for years!!!

Maria,

My spring break was great! I hope you are looking forward to yours upcoming!

I unfortunately know nothing about the $600 check. I would ask OPES about that; I'm wondering if that is their initiative. This is actually the first I have heard of it.

I completely understand the nervousness about the science. The best advice I can probably give is this - if the $50 for study.com/240 tutoring makes you more confident and keeps you from having to take it again, it could be well worth it!

It's close to graduation! You're almost there!

Good morning!

I hope you had a great spring break! I wanted to reach out to see if you knew this answer about the Praxis! Last semester in one of our classes, we were told that we would receive a $600 check in the mail (I believe it was) if we passed all of our Praxis exams. I wasn't sure if you knew about this, but I was wondering if you had to pass it the first try to receive that check? I passed reading, math and social studies all the first attempt, but I just scheduled my 3rd attempt for science, for April 18th.

I just wanted to see if you knew anything about this! I am trying to decide whether or not I should pay the $50 fee to have Study.com/ 240 Tutoring... I need to pass it this third attempt, and its difficult because the test changes each time!

Thank you so much for everything! Its strange not seeing you all frequently the semester, I hope all is well!

In general, I think the scores tend to be pretty accurate. There is the possibility it could change, because it's not official, but they're usually pretty stable.

I wish I could offer assistance! I have heard people say good things about study.com, which unfortunately is not free.

This is just so frustrating. I want to be able to have everything together to start interviewing. I just talked with a girl who got a 151 on her last science one and they didn't change the score at all.

I'm so sorry. So, it is possible it could go up a point or two, but it's also just as possible it could go down a point or two.

I would still probably be inclined to wait until you receive the official score report before you book, regardless.

Hello!

I just took the science praxis my second try, and I didn't meet the passing score by one point. Passing is 152, and I got a 151. How likely is it that my unofficial score may be bumped up by one point? Or do you think I should plan to take it again?

Thank you so much,
Maria Carey
